

(12)

If we want to clear out the importance of biodiversity to get into more ^{better &} advanced conservation and sustainable use than currently we are, we have to support our efforts with the evidence generated ^{through} recognizing and measuring the true value of biodiversity.

When we see to the true value of biodiversity ecosystem services are the key elements. I think it is better to not separately address ecosystem services as not part of Biodiversity.