

Ethiopia

(12) 11/2
15/10

Most of the time the local communities are blamed for the loss of natural habitats, because of lack of awareness.

I don't think this is always true.

What are really the major actors for the deforestation of Amazon forest?

To set the right measure, it is really important to know who is or what is the major actor/factor of the problem?

Is it possible to make afforestation in those areas already deforested?