Rio Conventions' Ecosystems Pavilion to Highlight Benefits for Action on Climate, Biodiversity and Land Degradation at CBD COP10 in Nagoya

Dear Madam/Sir,

The “Rio Conventions’ Ecosystems and Climate Change Pavilion – Linking biodiversity, climate change and sustainable land management” will debut at the tenth meeting of the Conference of the Parties to the Convention on Biological Diversity that will take place in Nagoya, Japan, from 18-29 October. Launched during the International Year of Biodiversity, the Pavilion will provide a space for delegates, representatives from non-governmental organizations, business and civil society to discuss solutions and approaches to a range of interconnected issues over the two week period.

I am very pleased to share with you the programme of the Rio Conventions’ Ecosystems and Climate Change Pavilion that will take place at the margins of the tenth meeting of the Conference of the Parties.

The programme can also be found on the CBD’s website at the following link which will also contain daily videos and updates on the proceedings.
