Business Engagement in Biodiversity

Government:

On June 4, 2012, Premier LI keqiang stressed that:

- The central and local governments both need strengthen investment for biodiversity conservation, and at the same time, encourage and guide enterprises and other social capital actively participate in the work of biodiversity conservation.
- Biodiversity conservation is a common responsibility of the whole society, the enterprise should also perform corresponding social responsibility in the process of developing biological industry.

National Biodiversity Conservation Strategy and Action Plan (NBSAP)

- Approved by State Council and issued in September 2010
- 10 Priority Domain and 30 Actions
- Priority Domain 10: To establish public participatory mechanisms and partnership for biodiversity conservation

On January 25, 2013, National Twelve-Five Year Plan on Environmental Protection

- Increasing investment, improve the marketization of investment and financing mechanism, promote the establishment of national, local, enterprise and society of multi-channel input mechanism.
Businesses:

In the past two decades, tens of thousands of Chinese enterprises have been engaged in biodiversity conservation with fruitful achievements. 1000 reports on corporate social responsibilities are developed and pilot activities carried out.

- To prioritize support to sustainable and low carbon business as well as community investment and works through energy efficiency and supply chain management.
- To engage business into conservation associations whose contributions are used to finance biodiversity conservation.
The Forum is an innovative attempt in China to put biodiversity conservation and green development into practice.

As many as around 200 representatives from the member departments of China National Committee of Biodiversity Conservation, (provincial) departments and (municipal) bureaus of environmental protection, Global Environment Facility (GEF), international Executing Agencies and domestic Implementing Agencies under the umbrella of China Biodiversity Partnership and Framework for Action (CBPF), business world, research and academia, media circle and civil society participated in the forum.
promotion of the biological diversity conservation and advancement of green development is integral part of the search for a new path to environmental protection, with the aim to explore biodiversity-friendly green development, characterized by realization of multiple wins to achieve economic, social and ecological benefits at community, national and global levels.
• China Communications Construction Company Ltd,
• China Vanke Co., Ltd,
• HSBC Bank (China) Company Ltd,
• Nature Home (China) Co., Ltd

representing the four different types of businesses in China signed off to endorse the “Initiative on Business and Biodiversity”.
We hereby propose the following,

• Disseminate biodiversity concept within and outside enterprises. To improve recognition of its importance, risk of its loss, and necessity of conservation efforts. To undertake biodiversity training, raise awareness and motivate participation at all levels within an enterprise and to establish a sound partnership among government agencies, business and civil societies.

• Prioritize ecological factor in business operation. To integrate ecological conservation, for whether mountains or grassland, terrestrial or maritime, into strategy development, production and other routine operation. To sustainably exploit species resources which are no matter in the sky or on the land, flora or fauna. To share benefits arising from utilization of generic resources and associated traditional knowledge for whether domestic transactions or international trade.

• Actively participate activities of public interest. To support local governments, communities and civil societies in organizing public activities related to biodiversity conservation, shoulder corporate social responsibilities and develop into a biodiversity friendly enterprise.
