

Empowering communities for the Ecosystem Services Management

We need to talk

Working empowering tools
as a system

Ir al Curso

FUNDAMENTOS DEL
ENFOQUE
ECOSISTÉMICO

INDICACIONES

www.sinac.uci.ac.cr

A photograph of two women in a meeting. The woman on the left is wearing a white lab coat, glasses, and a black face mask. She has a red lanyard with a white cross symbol around her neck. The woman on the right is wearing a dark blazer, glasses, and a light-colored top. They are both looking down at a document or screen. The background is slightly blurred, showing what appears to be a meeting room with a whiteboard.

Knowledge management for the future

Making a stronger institutional capacities

How to monitorate empowerment?

Are they using the tools?
Are they doing right and fair communication?
Are they advancing on his hydric ecosystem service protection?
How many people do we have really involved with the interaction tools?

Our labor as an Environmental Development Communicator is to generate enough necessary conversations between parties. Communities already have the big answers.

José Daniel Murillo Solano

Communicator for sustainable development

Expertise France - Interamerican Development Bank - UN Environment