13. GREENING OF THE MEETING

The Secretariat of the Convention on Biological Diversity and the Government of Japan want to create a setting that is true to the spirit of the Convention and meets the requirements of environmental protection in general. Japan is therefore organizing the meeting in line with a comprehensive and ambitious environmental plan with the purpose of ensuring that, to the extent possible, environmental impacts resulting from the meeting are avoided or, at a minimum, reduced, to give participants first-hand experience of the ideas behind the environmental concept and thus indirectly also promote the goals of the meeting.

The main areas that the concept will address are: waste management, travel of participants, and efficient use of energy and water during the meeting. Climate protection will also play a key role as it is closely connected to biodiversity.
13.1 Waste Management

The starting point for waste management is waste prevention. Proper organization will prevent large volumes of waste from accumulating at the meeting. To facilitate efficient waste recycling, waste will be collected separately.

In 1998, a garbage emergency was declared in Nagoya. The increase in the amount of waste had exceeded the capacity of incineration and landfill facilities. Citizens, businesses and the Nagoya City Government joined forces to enforce the separation of waste according to categories for recycling. As a result, the volume of waste fell by 30% and that of landfills by 60%.

For this reason, waste separation and recycling is the core environmental principle that symbolizes Nagoya. The Government of Japan and the Aichi-Nagoya COP-10 CBD Promotion Committee will take advantage of COP-10 to introduce and apply Nagoya’s waste separation system, in order to promote waste reduction and recycling.

It is hardly possible to imagine a meeting without documents and brochures, but it is a great help to the environment if participants only take, distribute or copy what is really of interest and will actually be read. Different waste containers will also be placed throughout the meeting venue, including the public areas, enabling participants to dispose of their waste separately. This means that every participant can actively support environmentally sound waste management.

13.2 Energy and water

Energy and water consumption for the meeting will be kept as low as possible. Electricity needs will be supplied by certified green electricity for the duration of the meeting.

13.3 Transportation

In order to promote the use of environmentally friendly public transportation, the Aichi-Nagoya COP-10 CBD Promotion Committee will provide a free subway pass valid within Nagoya City. More details about transportation are available in section 14.

13.4 Climate protection

The Government of Japan is committed to minimizing the negative impacts on the climate. All greenhouse gas emissions, e.g. in the transport and energy sectors, will be kept as low as possible. All non-avoidable greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions, for example emissions resulting from the long flights which many participants must take to and from Japan, will be offset by investments in climate-protection projects elsewhere. These projects will comply with the highest ecological and social standards.

To offset GHG emissions accurately, the Government of Japan needs to know if there are participants that are independently offsetting GHG emissions from their personal flights. In such cases, participants are requested to provide us with their country/organization, point of origin, participant names, via e-mail or fax before their arrival to Japan.

18. EXHIBITION STANDS: INTERACTIVE FAIR FOR BIODIVERSITY:

The Aichi-Nagoya COP-10 CBD Promotion Committee has created an information web page for exhibitors at the MOP and the COP meetings (Interactive Fair for Biodiversity). The fair will take place at the Shirotori area adjacent to the COP-10 venue. All details related to the fair can be found at the following link: http://www.cop10.jp/fair/en.

Environmental protection is a high priority for COP-10. The aim is to avoid negative environmental impacts as much as possible during the whole conference, including side-events and exhibitions. Therefore, exhibitors are requested to commit to the environmental requirements when designing and operating their exhibition stands.

Participating governments and organizations wishing to book exhibition space are invited to submit their applications, no later than 30 June 2010, to the Aichi-Nagoya COP-10 CBD Promotion Committee, the focal organization designated by the Secretariat of the Government of Japan for CBD-COP-10, by e-mail or by fax; at the following coordinates:

Relevant information regarding the exhibition can be found in Annex C.

19. FAIR ON EXPERIENCES AND BEST PRACTICES IN CEPA

A fair on experiences and best practices in Communication, Education and Public Awareness (CEPA) will be held parallel to COP-10 in Room 216, 1st Floor of Building 2 of the Nagoya Congress Center.

The CEPA Fair is an opportunity for Parties and organizations to highlight their work and its contribution to the implementation of the three objectives of the Convention. As this year’s Fair will take place near the closing of the International Year of Biodiversity (IYB), it offers a platform for highlighting activities and celebrations in support of the Year.

The CEPA Fair will include two components;

1. An exhibition of IYB materials and events; and

2. Side-events focusing on CEPA as a strategic tool of the Convention.

Details of these components and the ways that Parties may participate are listed below:
19.1. Exhibition of materials for the International Year of Biodiversity:

The International Year of Biodiversity is a tremendous opportunity for Parties and organizations to demonstrate experiences and information products designed to communicate the value of biodiversity for human well-being. At the CEPA Fair, a number of display stations will be available to exhibit materials produced for the IYB, including the following:

- Presentation of posters;
- Display of printed materials; and
- Display of CD-ROMs.

To ensure maximum flexibility in presentations, and to take into account the different resource capabilities of exhibitors, it will also be possible to mount a display for only some of the days of COP-10. Exhibitions of IYB materials are to be mounted by representatives of Parties. Proposals for the displays of these materials are to be submitted to the Secretariat and to include the following information:

- Name and description of material; and
- Name and contact information of exhibitor.

Please note that exhibitors are responsible for all matters and costs relating to the shipment of their own materials, including all customs arrangements and provisions for any return shipments.

19.2. Side-events on CEPA as a strategic tool of the Convention

Throughout COP-10, side-events on CEPA will be held on a number of strategic themes. Parties and organizations will be invited to submit proposals for short presentations that demonstrate activities related to the theme. These proposals will be reviewed by the Secretariat and organized into programmes of side-events. Proposals that bring together more than one Party or organization under an activity are encouraged. Proposals should include the following:

- The name and description of the activity;
- Information on the agency and its partners who are implementing the activity;
- Its relevance to one of the themes;
- Links to any online resources that describe the activities;
- The name of the presenter; and
- Audio-visual requirements.

The themes under which proposals may be submitted are the following:

- CEPA and the strategic plan of the CBD;
- Biodiversity monitoring and citizen science;
- Media relations and biodiversity;
- Building capacity for CEPA at national and regional levels;
- Mainstreaming biodiversity into education for sustainable development;
- Natural history museums, zoos, botanical gardens and CEPA;
- Information technology and CEPA (including social networking);
- Indigenous and local communities (ILCs) and communicating traditional knowledge; and
- Communicating the economic value of biodiversity.

In the context of the above elements, the Secretariat invites Parties, other governments, development agencies, research institutions, and other relevant organizations and initiatives to register their interest to showcase their CEPA projects and activities with the Secretariat at their earliest convenience, but no later than 15 July 2010. Kindly submit your request to secretariat@cbd.int and include in the subject line CEPA Fair COP-10.

Please note the due to restricted room capacity, only a limited number of exhibitors can be offered the opportunity to showcase their work. The Secretariat reserves the right to select the exhibitors.

20. RIO CONVENTIONS’ ECOSYSTEMS AND CLIMATE CHANGE PAVILION: ACHIEVING SYNERGIES BETWEEN BIODIVERSITY, LAND MANAGEMENT AND CLIMATE CHANGE

Convened by the Rio Convention secretariats, the Rio Conventions’ Ecosystems and Climate Change Pavilion will take place at meeting venue during COP-10. The Pavilion will also be held during the UNFCCC COP-16 in Mexico (29 November – 10 December 2010). It is also intended that the Pavilion be held in 2011 at the UNCCD COP-10 in the Republic of Korea.

Taking place during the International Year of Biodiversity, the Pavilion will provide opportunities for Parties and organizations to highlight activities linking biodiversity, land management, and climate change, especially at national and sub-national levels. The Pavilion will provide an opportunity to highlight how ecosystem-based approaches are successfully being used in climate change mitigation and adaptation.

The Pavilion contributes to enhanced awareness-raising and outreach in the framework of the Rio Conventions (CBD COP decision IX/16) and to enhancing collaboration between the Rio Conventions (UN General Assembly Resolution 64/203 of 14 December 2009).

Running in parallel with the side-event programmes of the CBD COP-10 and the UNFCCC COP-16, the Pavilion will bring together a lecture series, web events and thematic displays. Main activities will be designed around a number of thematic days, for example, on protected areas, forests, marine, coastal and island biodiversity, and wetlands. The Pavilion will also provide opportunities to highlight a number of cross-cutting issues, including, for example:

- Linking biodiversity, climate change and land management in poverty alleviation: the role of ecosystem-based approaches;
- Economics of biodiversity and ecosystem services in climate change management;
- Indigenous peoples benefits and livelihoods; e.g. opportunities, role of traditional knowledge and rights of indigenous and local communities; and
- Gender perspectives in linking biodiversity, climate change and land management.

Parties and organizations will be invited to express their interest in providing input to the Pavilion programme through a separate notification. Please direct any questions to secretariat@cbd.int and include in the subject line: Rio Conventions’ Ecosystems and Climate Change Pavilion.
