INTRODUCTORY REMARKS

Cameroon's First National Report on the Convention on Biological Diversity (CBD) was submitted to the CBD Secretariat in 1997 following Decision 11/17 of the Conference of Parties of the CBD. After about four years in accordance with Decision V/20 of the Fifth Conference of Parties held in Nairobi, Kenya (15 – 26 May 2000), the Second National Report is now due.

Since 1995, all parties to the CBD have been attempting to move the CBD forward from the policy status to the implementation levels particularly recognizing that the Convention addresses issues on biological resources which happen to be fragile, heavily threatened in some places and targeted for economic development particularly in the sub-tropical and tropical ecosystems. Other threats are linked with natural causes like climate change, desertification, floods, eruptions, socio-political conflicts, urbanization and continuous demands for construction materials, food and medicines. These same factors have contributed to species and ecosystem degradation in Cameroon. Within the period of reporting (1997 – 2001), Cameroon has had additional considerations in policies related to biological resources. Some of these are:- "Poverty Alleviation", "Industrialization of the forestry sector", "more employment". The regular emphasis on food security has implied a more aggressive approach on improved farming methods, diversification of food and cash crops, better hunting and fishing practices and the encouragement of the unemployed into agriculture, which is the life-wire of the country's economy.

This second National Report has a format, which has been designed by the 5th Conference of Parties to verify the implementation processes and capacity by contracting parties to the CBD. It is evident that Cameroon is making great efforts in implementing the CBD through the various policies, innovations and legislations. In its effort to implement the CBD, the Draft law on Biosafety has been submitted to the National Assembly, the Environmental law was already promulgated in 1996 and the 1994 Wildlife, Fishery and Forestry Laws are emphasizing on greater involvement of the local communities in biological resource management. Cameroon adheres to most conventions and agreements related to biodiversity protection and environmental conservation. As a member of the FAO, ATO, ITTO, CITES, etc. Cameroon focuses on managing its fishery, forestry and agricultural resources following international norms and directives. The goals for management have been generally directed towards sustainable development and economic improvements. Very recently in 1999 the six Heads of States of the Central African Sub-region signed the "Yaounde Declaration" which is aimed at the proper management and sustainable use of the tropical forests resources of the Congo Basin. The programme on "desertification" is a major consideration to Cameroon and the countries with whom Cameroon shares the Sahel zone.

In spite of increase spending on biodiversity-related programs, much needs to be done to improve life particularly in the rural areas and also sensitize Cameroonians on the importance of sustainable use of biological resources. Cameroon's adhesion in all biodiversity-related conventions should be backed up with rigorous implementation measures as well as effective monitoring programs.

With the improved synergies and coordination within the various biological resource-stakeholders, there is hope that much will be achieved in the implementation of the CBD in Cameroon.

PROCEDURE USED TO PREPARE THE REPORT

On the announcement by the CBD Secretariat on the obligation of parties to the CBD to submit the Second National Report, the MINEF, which is the focal point, recruited a consultant with specific terms of reference as outlined below:

TERMS OF REFERENCE:

- (a) The employee/consultant will be assigned to carry out the following duties:
- Collect data and other relevant information on the implementation of the Convention on Biological Diversity for Cameroon for the years 1999, 2000 and 2001 from Administrations, NGOs, Bilateral Organisations intervening in the field of biodiversity and sustainable development;
 - Collect data on the marine and coastal biodiversity, forest biodiversity, mountain biodiversity, inland waters, savannah and drylands ecosystems;
 - Identify various forms of indigenous knowledge contribution to the conservation and sustainable use of biodiversity in Cameroon;
 - Use the information thus collected to write up the Second National report on the state of the biodiversity for Cameroon for the year 2001 as provided for and indicated by the Conference of Parties through the Secretariat of the CBD;
 - Submit the written draft National Report on Biodiversity for approval to the National Focal Point and carry out any corrections that may be required;
 - Carry out any other task destined to make Cameroon present a well written Second National report on the conservation, sustainable use and equitable sharing of benefits arising from the exploitation of genetic resources in Cameroon;

- (b) The employee/consultant shall work under the supervision of and will report to the Coordinator of the NRB Project.

The following steps were then followed:

1. Identification of all biodiversity stakeholders in Cameroon following the work programmes outlined in the Second National Report Guidelines.
2. Stakeholders who do not submit reports directly to the Focal Point (Ministry of the Environment and Forestry) were contacted directly for information.
3. The sections of the questionnaire, which concerns the stakeholder, was discussed with the particular stakeholder or its representative and remarks and scores were done together.
4. Where contact could not be made easily, written reports submitted to the Focal Point were exploited.
5. Information from seminars and workshops organised by MINEF and involving the various stakeholders was also used. Caution was taken to ensure that the information used was the most current and accurate.

THE FOLLOWING STAKE-HOLDERS PROVIDED INFORMATION FOR THE REPORT:

- The Ministry of the Environment and Forestry, Department of Wildlife, Department of Forestry, The Permanent Secretariat for Environment, Department of Cooperation.
 - The Ministry of Agriculture - The Department of Crop Production.
 - The Ministry of Tourism

 8. The final report was then prepared and distributed to a wider group of stakeholders for their information.

Please provide information on any particular circumstances in your country that are relevant to understanding the answers to the questions in this report

Cameroon's economy is based on agriculture with the main export crops being Cocoa, Coffee, Timber, Rubber, Banana, groundnut, Cotton, and a variety of food crops (tubers, cereals, vegetables, fruits). Within the framework on the implementation of the CBD, Cameroon has the following institutional and framework arrangements:

1. INSTITUTIONAL SETTING:

- Ministry of the Environment and Forestry, Focal Point for the CBD - Responsible for the forestry and Wildlife biodiversity as well as environmental management.
- Ministry of Agriculture - Responsible for the management of Agricultural biodiversity
- Ministry of Fisheries and Animal Industry - Responsible for domestic animal husbandry, fishery and aquatic biodiversity.
- Ministry of Scientific and Technical Research - Coordinates research findings on all forms of biological resources
- Center for Biotechnology - Has laboratories in tissue culture, microbiology and genetics
- National Committee on Biotechnology - Handles matters on biosafety and biotechnology, proposes modalities for an appropriate national biosafety guidelines legislation.

2. INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION:

On biodiversity related issues the following main organisations - public and private are present in Cameroon: WWF, IUCN, GTZ, WCS, CIFOR, BIRDLIFE International, LANAVET, IRAD, CDC, SODEPA, HEVECAM, SODECOTON, FAO, ECOFAC etc. Several international cooperation agreements have been signed with many organisations to enhance the sustainable use of Cameroon's biodiversity. The Ramsar Convention is being considered for ratification.

3. LEGAL FRAMEWORK:

In the bid to implement the CBD, Cameroon revised the laws regulating the use of Wildlife, Forestry and Fishery activities. The new agricultural policy seeks at providing food for all using improved planting material and better farming techniques. The adoption of the National Law on biosafety is likely to be achieved in 2001.

4. CAPACITY BUILDING:

(a) Human Capacities:

Conscious of the need for human and institutional capacity, Government runs institutions for the training of:

- Biologists - University of Yaounde I
- Forest Engineers - University of Dschang
- Agronomists - University of Dschang
- Wildlife Specialists - College of Wildlife - Garoua

- Forestry Technicians - School of Forestry, Mbalmayo

There are also training programmes abroad.

(b) Institutional Capacities:

These have been enhanced by:

- The presence of all biodiversity related Ministries in the rural areas and at District levels - MINEF, MINAGRI and MINEPIA.

5. INFORMATION AND PUBLIC AWARENESS

5(a) Sensitisation: The Cameroon population is regularly being informed on importance of conserving biodiversity through the written press, radio and television.

5(b) Extension and Research:

- The rural masses are reached through Agric. extension service and village sensitisation programmes.
- MINREST through IRAD provides research results on agricultural research free to farmers and fishermen.

6. COLLABORATION AND COORDINATION

As a requirement for better understanding and the implementation of the CBD processes, MINEF (CBD Focal Point) endeavours to collaborate with all its ministerial structures - DFAP, DF, SPE? ONADEF, local and international NGOs as well as its external services. MINEF also involves other biodiversity related ministries - AGRIC, MINREST, MINAPIA, Higher Education and FINANCE in the form of:- Seminars, Workshops, Interministerial Committees on biodiversity related issues.

Further comments on work programmes and priorities

Government priorities and work programmes have depended on some key principles. Cameroon's geographical position makes it have policies and resource management programs which take account of: Inland water ecosystems, Marine and Coastal biological diversity, Forest biological diversity and Dry and Sub-Humid lands biodiversities.

- Inland water Ecosystems
- Marine and Coastal biodiversity

The National Tropical Forestry Plan was approved in 1995. The National Environmental Management Plan (NBSAP) was concluded in 1996. The National Biodiversity Strategy and Action Plan was concluded in 1998. The Forestry, the Agriculture and Fisheries Plan and policies have worked programmes aimed at sustaining and improving the national economy, which is depended on its rich biodiversity. Both Government and the private sector are aware of this importance and dependence. In all these sectors, there is partnership, promotion of synergy and coordination programmes for capacity building, assessment, identification of threats and collaborative management programmes especially for contiguous regions and ecosystems. There is also effective stakeholders participation in all the sectors through programme demonstration, sensitisation and educational and project activities. Government is collaborating with many donor and technical assistance agencies to undertake projects in the agro-forestry, livestock, fisheries and on environmental awareness sectors. There is a new initiative involving the inclusion of environmental and biological resource studies in the primary school curriculum. All these priorities are disseminated to the public through the media, and administrative institutions, which are represented nationwide.

Further comments on implementation of these decisions

55. Considerable efforts have been made in collaboration with Biodiversity Network International (BIONET Int.) Since 1998

56. This is under review with the National Herbarium.

57. Training has been provided only with some areas in Taxonomy. Considering the diversity of species, and since very little has been done in the macro and particularly in the micro-flora and fauna, there is need to train taxonomists in many fields of our biodiversity components.

The high degree of endemism with some of our species requires that sufficient and appropriate taxonomists be available in order to meet up with the identification process of our biodiversity.

58. Efforts have been made by the National Herbarium to collaborate with other centres.

59. Only some institutions.

64. Except the little effort made by the National Herbarium on flora biodiversity. Very little has been accomplished on Wildlife and aquatic biodiversity.

68. The networks exists - Cameroon links up with BIONET Int., participates in meetings with WAFRINET (Reseau Ouest Africain de Taxonomie/Loop)

INSTITUTIONALLY

80. The institutional setting, the policies and the legislations are the various attempts that Government has put in place to ensure that attention is paid to biodiversity conservation and sustainable use.

- The Ministry of Agriculture works on policies related to Agricultural biodiversity;
- The Ministry of Livestock and Fisheries handles policies related to Domestic Animals and fish biodiversity;
- The Ministry of the Environment and Forestry examines issues on Forest and Wildlife biodiversity;
- The Ministry of Scientific and Technical Research has research institutes on biological resources.

ON LEGISLATION

Legislation on the main biological resources was revised in 1994 after the Rio Summit in 1992. Thus the new laws on Forestry, Wildlife and Fisheries were decreed by the Head of State with much emphasis on Conservation and improved management on biodiversity.

The focus on biodiversity in these laws is in agreement of Cameroon's commitment in the ratification of the CBD.

POLICIES RELATED TO BIODIVERSITY

- The new policies in agriculture, forestry, fisheries, wildlife and research lay more emphasis on biodiversity conservation and sustainable use of its products.

COOPERATION

Through bilateral and multilateral relations Cameroon benefits from foreign and national NGOs working on:

- Conservation
- Resources management and development
- Research
- Information
- Training

The legal framework on incentive measures is contained in the laws on forestry, fisheries and wildlife which provide the right of communities to benefit from the exploitation of biodiversity:

- FROM SOME STATE FOREST AREAS - Right of way, fishing, collection of NTFP.
- FROM COMMUNAL FOREST AREAS - Some amount of Communal taxes paid to local councils on the exploitation of forest products.
- FROM COMMUNAL FOREST AREAS - Execution of special clauses on the system of "Cahier de Charges" by forest exploiters.
- FOR FISHING LOCAL COMMUNITIES: Education, sensitisation on the best and sustainable fishing methods.
- FOR WILDLIFE - Local population to benefit from the carass or flesh of game when animal is hunted under licence. The hunter takes away the trophy and local population take the other part - e.g. big game.

Please use this box to identify what specific activities your country has carried out as a DIRECT RESULT of becoming a Contracting Party to the Convention, referring back to previous questions as appropriate:

Participating in the UNCED Conferences: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Elaboration of the NBSAP and FIRST NATIONAL REPORT; - BUILDING UP OF THE CHM; - Formation of the National Committee on Biodiversity; - Revision of the forestry, Wildlife and Fishery regulations with emphasis on the protection of Biodiversity and the sustainable use of its products; - Promulgation of the Environmental Law 1996; - Conclusion of the Tropical Forestry Action Plan (TFAP) 1995; - Conclusion of the National Environment Plan 1996; - The Yaounde Declaration - 1999 - Conservation and Management of the forests of the Congo Basin; - Draft National Law on Biosafety (2001); - New Agricultural Policy 1999; - Creation of new P.As and improved management of project sites from GEF funding. - Orientation of the public and private sectors towards the existence and the need to effectively implement the CBD by involving them in:- <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - CBD Workshops and Seminars;

- Appointment of stakeholders into multi-disciplinary committees on CBD issues;
- Sensitising the rural population on importance of CBD;
- Biodiversity-related Ministries and NGOs asked to gear their activities towards the implementation of the CBD and related Conventions.

Please use this box to identify joint initiatives with other Parties, referring back to previous questions as appropriate:

The Lake Chad Basin Commission involving Chad, Cameroon, Nigeria;
 The ECOFAC (Central African Ecosystems (Central African Republic, Cameroon, Democratic Republic of Congo);
 The Large Marine Ecosystems of the Gulf of Guinea - 6 countries along the Gulf of Guinea;
 The Korup Project (Cameroon and Nigeria);
 The African Timber Organisation (with 12 countries);
 The International Timber Trade Organisation;
 The Environmental Impact Assessment of the Chad-Cameroon Pipeline;
 Cameroon-Canada exchange relationship;
 Training possibilities with other friendly countries and agencies.

Please use this box to provide any further comments on matters related to national implementation of the Convention:

(1) The CBD has not been sufficiently known by the rural masses that work and live with many forms of biological resources. Many still have a hostile attitude on Government regulations implying that the actual custodians of the resources are not yet implementing the CBD.

(2) There is an urgent need to provide adequate resources in finances and manpower to improve the involvement of the local population through:

- Incentives and sensitisation activities;
- Equitable sharing of benefits;
- Better marketing facilities for biodiversity products.

(3) In all aspects of biodiversity handling, waste has been singled as detrimental to conservation and sustainable use. This is why Pre-harvest and Post-harvest waste must be avoided in fishing, logging and in agriculture.

(4) Indigenous knowledge and traditional life style should be quickly identified, recorded and preserved because knowledge from biodiversity is directly related with cultural heritage. It must be noted that indigenous knowledge is eroding fast since most of it is neither documented nor handed down.

(5) The need to develop national guidelines or regulations on benefit sharing, IPR Bio-prospecting to guide resource owners and users has been expressed in many instances.

(6) With the fast increase in population, and with over 55% of Cameroonians living in rural areas and Coastal regions (i.e. living with biological resources), there is the urgent need to reduce pressure on the resources by creating alternate sources of income. This will reduce abusive fishing methods, indiscriminate hunting, bush fires, poaching even in Pas as in the practice today in rural communities.

(7) The inclusion of environmental education in school curricula should be a very high priority, which should begin immediately.

The wording of these questions is based on the Articles of the Convention and the decisions of the Conference of the Parties. Please provide information on any difficulties that you have encountered in interpreting the wording of these questions

The wordings and purpose of the questions have been very clear at least to any party who is of the implementation level of the CBD because:-

- In the First National Report, the CBD implementation format did not clearly stand out and we recon that the Secretariat found difficulties in judging the level of implementation of each article by each Party.
- Every Party ought to be fully implementing the CBD since the CoP 1995. Noting therefore the need for Parties to report on the implementation of the CBD, noting also the various decisions of the CoP V, which should be examined during CoP VI, and seeing that this format serves as a self examination to the Contracting Party itself,

We consider the format, questions and the wordings of this report quite suitable, clear and the best method of assessment by Parties on their level of implementing the CBD and the most suitable way of informing not only the CBD Secretariat but also the Parties themselves and their various stakeholders.

- The CBD Secretariat has the role of collecting information from CBD Contracting Parties, and Organisation of biodiversity-related activities and passing it to the CoP.

- Country Studies on biodiversity are included in the NBSAP (1998) in which Chapter 2, "THE CURRENT SITUATION" is devoted to the stock-taking of all forms of biodiversity in Cameroon. Treatment of the situation was considered under the country's 6 main ecosystems and throughout the country study and development of the NBSAP, the "Ecosystem Approach" has been used.
- The state of the art of the biological resources viewed from the activity perspective has been detailly analysed in the National Environmental Management Plan (NEMP 1996) and volume II 654 pages) have been devoted to "THE SECTORIAL ANALYSIS" in:-
 - Agriculture;
 - Animal Husbandry;
 - Forestry and Forest Products;
