

© Klaudia Cardenas-Botero / Humboldt Institute

Gender & Biodiversity

Olga Lucía Hernández, PhD.
Humboldt Institute, Colombia

Gender Considerations in the Post-2020 Global Biodiversity Framework, New York – 10-11 April 2019

Colombia context: Gender

© Klaudia Cardenas-Botero / Humboldt Institute

- Women represent more than half of the Colombian population (51.4%).
- Women have more access to formal education in comparison to men.
- Participation rate of men was 74.8% and 53.6% for women.
- The employment rate is 69.3% for men and 46.9% for women.
- The unemployment rate is 12.4% for women and 7.4% for men.
- Women work more in service sectors.

National Development Plan 2018-2022

"Equality Pact for Women"

Colombian context: Biodiversity

Women as guardians: forests and seeds

Role of women in the process of conservation and domestication of seeds

Highlights

- Impact and results indicators with a gender perspective in biodiversity conservation projects
- How include the care economy of women in the final price of products derived from biodiversity

Gracias!!

© Andres Estefan